If you are a believer who hungers for more of God, more of His Glory, more of Who He really is, you need to commit to attending this serious study. Your life is guaranteed to change for the better as you dig into His Word. Proverbs 9:10 tells us that “The Fear of the Lord is the beginning of Wisdom” . Come find out more at the first meeting. Your text book will be available at that time for a small fee of $12.00.

2 Timothy 2:15 says to “Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a worker who does not need to be ashamed and who correctly handles the word of truth.” Make a commitment to come every week and mark your calendars, day-timers, or phone. We will have a time of worship; as well as prayer requests and praise reports the last portion of the meetings. We are looking forward to seeing you this coming February.

Know a fellow believer or co-worker who might be interested? Feel free to invite them to the Bible study and bring them with you if possible.

Praise Reports

I had some numbness in my fingers and was prompted to do some finger exercises and the numbness stopped. Thanking God for His wisdom in my mind. M.M.

I have been standing against the enemy to help me not to be angry with others or upset. Two things have happened. First, I can tell that the evil one is backing off. He is not as vocal with his insults to my mind. Second I am noticing it is also effecting my daughter in a good way. God is helping me to speak the things that line up with His Word instead of jumping into the conversation or situation with my own ideas/thoughts. Praise the Lord! C.S.

My friend, Sally, asked me if I’d walk and pray with her one day recently. I thought I’d love to, but could only walk for about forty minutes. We proceeded to go for the walk, praying as we went. Incredibly, we managed to walk for three miles and accomplished got quite a bit of praying. God is so good. N.S.

One afternoon a few days ago, my leg muscle began to ache, I decided to take authority over the situation. I simply rebuked it in the Name of Jesus. Just as quickly as it developed it ceased totally. All glory to Jesus, thank you my Savior. Thank you for your Mercy my King. M.M.

This past week I prayed concerning my blood draw. I’ve had very bad experiences with this in the past. We were unable to find the appointed lab, so I decided to go for a “walk-in” at my old lab. It turned out there were several other people also doing walk-in’s. We only had to wait one hour, but it was well worth it. The technician I got was even better at his job than my regular one. I am praising God. I didn’t even bruise, and I never felt the needle going in. Praise the Lord. P.D.

I’ve been dealing with aches and pains in my body for quite a while. Recently, I began taking collagen. It has been a huge blessing and I’ve noticed better range of motion and abilities. I believe the Lord put this into my heart and mind. Thank you Jesus. N.S.

This week I prayed about my thermography appointment, specifically that it would take a reasonable amount of time, that the pictures would be done correctly the first time and that the traffic to Monrovia would be good. Today, I am praising the Lord, as each thing I asked the Lord for came to pass. Thank you, It is a blessing every time God answers our prayers! Amen. P.D.

After prayer at the Bible Study last week, my spiritual and mental “funk” I seemed to be experiencing was totally lifted off of me! Also in connection with this the Lord helped me with some work related situation completely turning things around. I sensed a supernaturally strong presence of the Lord engulfing me. I am back to myself and much better, praising the Lord for His goodness. S.D.

I was over at my daughters home checking her mail for her etc. As I sat down on her couch, suddenly I was overwhelmed by the tangible presence of God. Such a comfort and peace flooded over me. It was awesome. I thank the Lord for His nearness and presence. It was wonderful and special. N.S.

I am praising God for I can see I’m being freed more and more from the opinions and thinking of other people and becoming less fretful. God, the Holy Spirit is teaching me how to handle this. It is an amazing thing when He shows you what He is doing. Thanking Jesus for this. I’m learning just how much the enemy wants to interfere in all I do and think and even say. But God is faithful to me, His child. C. S.

My mom, who lives in Egypt, needed assistance with housecleaning duties. I prayed with her and within one hour a cleaner came over to help her. All glory be to God. There is no distance in prayer. He meets our every need, with His grace and goodness. Thank you Lord, Jesus. M.M.
